Preamble

RHI Magnesita¹ stands for leading refractory services and products enabled by outstanding employees. But this alone is not enough. To achieve sustainable growth, we are committed to responsible management. Our intention is not only risk mitigation by compliance with relevant laws, but to go beyond that for ethically sound practice for the sake of RHI Magnesita and all our stakeholders. Integrity, honesty, reliability, as well as a respectful contact with employees and business partners, are the basis of our daily activities. Both our achievements and our values, are essential for the trust and confidence our customers, partners, investors and the public place in us, leading us to success. This Code of Conduct aims to communicate our values and visions and, as a result, the fundamental rules — in a legal and ethical sense — which should be self-evident to us all. It is our goal that these values and rules are respected, internalized, and applied in our daily work. We, the Executive Management Team of RHI Magnesita, fully support this Code of Conduct and state our commitment to its values and visions with our signature and our actions. We expect the staff and managers of RHI Magnesita, to follow our example. Likewise, we look to our business partners and encourage them to adopt the same high standards of corporate responsibility and compliance.

Our Code of Conduct at a glance

- We adhere to ethical business principles, and conduct our business with respect and appreciation, honesty and integrity, reliability, and responsibility.
- We uphold international standards with respect to human and civil rights, as well as labour laws and social legislation of the countries in which we operate.
- We consider a safe and healthy working environment as a fundamental right of our employees.
- We engage actively in environmental protection and sustainable management.
- We stand for correct and fair business and have zero tolerance for corrupt practices.
- Gifts and invitations can be an expression of appreciation and respect towards business partners, but we do not tolerate any abuse for undue influence.
- We aim to continuously develop and implement social projects that have a positive impact in our communities and create mutual value.
- We clearly separate business from private interests and avoid conflicts of interests.
- We are committed to fair competition and conduct our business in full compliance with anti-trust and competition laws.
- We support the fight against criminal and terroristic activities and adhere to applicable sanctions, export control and anti-money laundering regulations.
- We take steps to prevent insider trading and other forms of market abuse to ensure the integrity of financial markets.
- We respect the right of privacy and other data protection principles and process personal data for a legitimate and limited purpose only.
- We respect and protect intellectual property, trade secrets and copyrights and use such assets within the specified terms of use only.
- It is our obligation to protect RHI Magnesita and its resources from theft and fraud, and to provide a true and fair representation in financial and other reports.
- We communicate in an honest and respectful manner internally and externally, regardless of the form and media used.
- We hold our hands up to violations of applicable laws, external or internal regulations, including this Code of Conduct, and take steps to prevent or stop any misconduct immediately.

The principles of ethical conduct

Our key document
Supplier Code of Conduct

We require from our managers, employees and contracted staff that they conduct our business with respect and appreciation, honesty and integrity, reliability and responsibility.

Full compliance with the applicable laws of the countries in which we operate is a matter of course and goes without saying. RHI Magnesita is committed to upholding international standards such as the principles of the United Nations Global Compact and the documents it is based on, like the International Labour Organization's Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work, the Rio Declaration on Environment and Development, the United Nations Convention against Corruption or the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights. The same we expect from our business partners along the supply chain. We require our suppliers to follow our example and commit to the same principles, as outlined in our Supplier Code of Conduct.

Human and labour rights

Our key documents
• Human Rights Policy
• Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy
• Diversity Charter
• Anti-Slavery Statement

At RHI Magnesita, it is our conviction that respect for human and civil rights has to be the foundation of our society as a whole. Our human rights approach is consistent with internationally recognized principles and takes into account legal requirements, such as those of the UK Modern Slavery Act 2015. We reject and do not tolerate any form of human trafficking, forced, compulsory or child labour, discrimination based on race, colour, religion, sex, age, origin, nationality, disability, sexual orientation or on any other grounds, or any form of (sexual) harassment, insults, aggression, hurtful or indecent behaviours.

We are committed to providing equal opportunities and fair treatment for all employees in all employment-related decisions such as recruitment, promotion, training and development, compensation, and termination of employment, and we comply with applicable labour laws and social legislation, including the recognition of the right to collective bargaining and freedom of association, in accordance with local laws.

RHI MAGNESITA

Our key document
Quality, Health & Safety, Energy and Environment (IMS) Policy

Health and Safety

At RHI Magnesita, we consider health and safety as an integral part of our corporate culture, and not simply a legal obligation. Healthy, safe, happy, motivated, and committed employees are key for the long-term success of our business.

We have implemented comprehensive Health & Safety policies and procedures as well as regular inspections and training courses at all our locations around the world.

Each and every employee needs to bear their responsibility for the implementation of occupational safety and health.

Any accident or emergency at a (production) site runs the risk of personal injury, damage to the environment or personal property and can harm the reputation of RHI Magnesita, especially when there is no appropriate response.

Our site managers are responsible for adequate and prompt incident response in accordance with our global and local crisis and emergency procedures, as well as for the continuous improvement of our Health & Safety management system and performance. They also ensure that all relevant persons are aware of these procedures and receive periodic training.

Protection of the environment

Compliance with legal and other requirements relating to avoidance of negative environmental impact is a matter of course at RHI Magnesita. The production of refractory products is inherently energy-intensive and a cause of emissions, however, we engage actively in environmental protection and sustainable management to minimize the negative environmental impacts of our operations. We take great efforts to work as cautiously as possible with respect to energy and natural resources, and we pay particular attention to the aspect of recycling of residual materials in the development of new and the improvement of existing products.

By worldwide cooperation of internal and external experts, raw materials and additives are utilized according to ecological criteria and their potential negative environmental impact is reduced to a minimum and, as part of our continuous improvement process, subject to regular reviews and assessments.

Bribery and corruption

Our key document
Anti-Corruption Policy

RHI Magnesita stands for correct and fair business conduct and succeeds solely with the expertise of its staff and the quality of its products and services. It goes without saying, therefore, that we do not tolerate any form of bribery or corruption and that we adhere to applicable laws and regulations, in particular, but not limited to, the UK Bribery Act and the US Foreign Corrupt Practices Act.

Bribes are not only cash payments but can take numerous forms, for instance money transfers to fictitious accounts or shell companies, payment of counterfeit or inflated invoices, granting of excessive discounts or commissions, valuable gifts and generous invitations, providing free services or arrangement of job offers.

It is strictly prohibited to all our employees, agents, contractors and other staff working on behalf of RHI Magnesita to offer, promise or grant, directly or indirectly, any advantage with the objective of obtaining an unlawful consideration.

Likewise, demanding or accepting an advantage for oneself or for a third party for the provision of an unlawful consideration is prohibited. Even the appearance of any undue influence must be avoided.

The offence of bribery is not only limited to politicians and public officials or to certain countries, but also applies to business partners in the private sector and to all countries worldwide, even if committed not directly, but rather through third-party intermediaries.

This prohibition includes facilitation payments, even if they may be allowed in some jurisdictions. These are usually small amounts given to expedite or secure the performance of a routine government action, e.g. obtaining permits or licenses, processing governmental papers, such as visas and work orders, providing phone service, power and water supply, police protection, or actions of similar nature.

Gifts and invitations

Our key document
Gifts and Invitations Guideline

Distribution or acceptance of gifts with a symbolic value, or invitations within a reasonable scope of hospitality commonly accepted by the business community as an expression of appreciation and respect towards business partners, may be considered unobjectionable and in line with our corporate values.

Invitations and gifts beyond a symbolic value require prior approval in accordance with our guidelines and internal procedures, regardless of whether they are to be given or accepted.

In many jurisdictions strict rules apply to public officials and employees of federal, regional or local authorities or employees of public-sector enterprises. In such cases, we ensure correctness in advance and refrain from granting any benefit if in doubt.

In any case, invitations or gifts which might have an influence on business decisions or official actions, such as the award of a contract or a government permission, or which may be considered discriminatory or non-reputable, or which otherwise leave the impression of dishonesty or being unethical are prohibited, no matter whether actively granted or passively accepted.

Our communities

Our key document
Community Investment Guideline

RHI Magnesita strives to be an integral part of the communities where it operates. We are committed to develop and implement social projects that have a positive impact in our communities. We encourage employees' engagement in volunteering and community work.

We regularly engage and consult with our stakeholders, seeking to understand their interests and concerns, and by this identify the areas of priority. We seek to partner with local NGOs to work in a collective effort to build a robust framework for our initiatives, thus enabling a long-lasting, sustainable impact.

Community investments (donations, social projects) and sponsorship, as well as other voluntary benefits, must be made independently of our business activities without correlation between a business transaction and the beneficiary.

Community investments must be made voluntarily, unselfishly and without any consideration. Sponsoring, on the other hand, is done in return for the right to use the sponsored person or organization for marketing and public relations activities. The allocation of funds requires prior approval and transparent documentation in accordance with our guidelines and internal procedures.

Contributions to political organizations or persons, authorities and civil servants are not allowed. Contributions to organizations which are non-compliant with the values of RHI Magnesita as well as contributions which might be used to influence a business or government decision or otherwise violate applicable laws are strictly prohibited.

Conflicts of interest

Any business decision we make, and the resulting actions shall serve the interests of RHI Magnesita and may not be influenced by our personal interests or relationships. Therefore, we avoid compromising situations from the outset.

Secondary activities are not permitted if they lead to a conflict of interest, a competitive situation with RHI Magnesita, or affect the work performance at RHI Magnesita. This applies to employment with another employer, self-employed work, but also voluntary services and other unpaid activities.

Employees of RHI Magnesita are not permitted to run their own company, to hold an interest, directly or indirectly, or a board or executive position in another company, which has either a business or a competitive relationship with RHI Magnesita.

Relatives of members of the Board, the Executive Management Team or the Regional Leadership Team of RHI Magnesita shall not be employed or have business relationship such as consulting with RHI Magnesita. Relatives of staff shall not be employed in an organizational setting which creates a hierarchical or factual dependency or subordination between the persons involved.

Exemptions from the above stated rules may only be granted in exceptional situations and require disclosure and prior approval in accordance with our guidelines and internal procedures.

Anti-trust and fair competition

National and international regulation ensures that fair competition takes place in the markets and no participant generates an unlawful advantage over competitors by any agreement or mutual understanding whatsoever. RHI Magnesita is committed to fair competition and business conduct with integrity.

We comply with the applicable anti-trust and competition laws in all relevant areas like sales and marketing, purchasing, production or research and development.

Any activities that decrease or abandon competition are therefore strictly prohibited. This includes but is not limited to:

▽ entering into agreements, aligning behavior, or exchanging information with competitors about prices, terms and conditions, production or sales costs and quantities, sales strategies, segmentation of customers or markets, non-provision of products and services.

▽ provision of fictitious offers, discrimination of customers or suppliers, obtaining competitive knowledge through industrial espionage, theft, eavesdropping, or other illegal activities, or deliberately disseminating incorrect information about competitors.

▽ determination of resale prices or strategies and certain forms of exclusive arrangements with resellers.

Sanctions and export control regulations

Many countries, and supranational bodies such as the United Nations or the European Union, have enacted laws and regulations to fight against terrorism, violation of human rights, human and drug trafficking, organized crime and money laundering. They impose numerous sanctions and embargos against countries, organizations, companies and individuals, import and export restrictions for particular goods and technologies, as well as prohibition of certain services and financial transactions.

RHI Magnesita adheres to all applicable sanctions and export control regulations. We have established a robust business partner due diligence check, which is carried out during the onboarding and throughout the business relationships with third parties. To our knowledge, we only maintain relationships with business partners whose funds have reputable and legal sources and who do not support any criminal or terrorist activities to comply with anti-money laundering regulations.

Market abuse and inside information

Our key document
Inside Information Policy

RHI Magnesita N.V. is a company listed on the Premium Segment of the London Stock Exchange, with a secondary listing in Vienna. As a consequence, RHI Magnesita N.V., its employees and other persons acting on its behalf are subject to extensive regulations in order to prevent market abuse, to ensure the integrity of financial markets, and to enhance investor protection and confidence in those markets.

Inside Information means any information:

- ▽ of a precise nature
- ▽ which has not been made public
- ▽ relating, directly or indirectly, to RHI Magnesita or its Securities (e.g. shares)
- ▽ which, if it were made public, would be likely to have a significant effect on the price of the shares

Engaging in insider dealing and the unlawful disclosure of Inside Information constitute, inter alia, abuse of Inside Information and are strictly prohibited.

Inside information and other non-public information linked to the RHI Magnesita Group is to be considered strictly confidential and shall be protected through appropriate organizational measures.

More detailed information on this subject is provided in the Inside Information Policy, which is amended from time to time, and is made available to all employees and other persons concerned.

Data protection and privacy

Our key document
Global Data Protection and Privacy Policy

In order to enable our business processes and to fulfill related duties, RHI Magnesita needs to process not only business data but also data related to individuals, mainly our employees but also data related to other persons we work with.

We respect the right of privacy and other data protection principles and are committed to processing personal data lawfully, fairly, in a transparent manner and for a legitimate and limited purpose only.

We comply with applicable privacy and data protection regulations, such as the provisions of the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). In particular, we ensure that the collection, processing and use of personal data are carried out exclusively within the legally permitted and operationally necessary scope and to protect such data from unauthorized disclosure, use, or modification.

All employees are required to adhere to the respective principles and to handle information and IT systems conscientiously and carefully. Careless handling may cause significant damage to RHI Magnesita, our employees, or to third parties.

Information security

Our key documents
• Information Security Policy
• Guidelines on specific information security topics

Information represents an essential success factor in everyday operations and in competition. The use of modern information systems and digitalization enables efficient and professional work. However, they also bear risks for data security and privacy. The protection of personal and business-related data, including confidential customer data, is of key importance to RHI Magnesita. Ensuring the functionality and integrity of our information and communication systems are therefore top priorities.

All data and information created, stored, sent, or received within the context of working with RHI Magnesita are the property of RHI Magnesita and are not to be considered private data or communication. All such data and information, both physical and electronical, must be labeled and treated in accordance with our rules on information classification.

If not explicitly designated otherwise, all information is considered for internal use only and must not be disclosed to third parties. The obligation to confidentiality applies even after termination of employment with RHI Magnesita.

Business partners, consultants and former employees of RHI Magnesita must be considered external persons in this context. They may not receive any internal or confidential information. If they do require such information to fulfill their duties on behalf of RHI Magnesita, formal authorization and a confidentiality agreement in accordance with the applicable policies and procedures have to be obtained before any information is made available to them.

Intellectual property

RHI Magnesita and its employees respect and protect intellectual property, trade secrets and copyrights. We use such assets within the specified terms of use only and treat them confidentially to ensure compliance with the applicable laws and license terms and to protect our rights. This also applies to such information which RHI Magnesita was entrusted with by customers, suppliers or other business partners.

RHI Magnesita only allows software on its computers which is approved by the IT Department and properly licensed for commercial use to RHI Magnesita.

We do not tolerate copying, downloading, or distributing of software or other copyrighted material beyond the agreed upon scope. The use of so-called "freeware" or "shareware", i.e. programs and files that are available free of charge on the Internet, is generally not allowed.

Most information, such as books, magazines, websites, music or video recordings, etc., that is also copyright protected, is protected from unauthorized use. Unless explicit permission is given by owner of the copyright, any reproduction, distribution or electronic storing is prohibited.

RHI Magnesita resources

It is an obligation of all our managers, employees and contracted staff to protect RHI Magnesita and its resources from internal and external threats like theft and fraud and to ensure a true and fair representation in the financial statements and other reports.

The use of RHI Magnesita resources is designated for business-related tasks. Any equipment, tools and other resources provided by RHI Magnesita shall be treated in a careful, preservative and cost saving manner.

RHI Magnesita acknowledges that employees may exceptionally use RHI Magnesita equipment or communication devices for private purposes. This is generally tolerated, provided the use is limited in duration and scope, does not adversely affect work performance, or result in a significant load on central resources or in a significant cost increase for RHI Magnesita, and does not violate relevant RHI Magnesita policies.

RHI Magnesita reserves the right to restrict and/or to monitor the usage of working and communications equipment, including the use of computers, software, e-mail, Internet, instant messaging, text messaging, voice mail, conference equipment, mobile phones, office supplies, etc., in accordance with applicable laws and existing labor agreements.

Internal and external communication

RHI Magnesita expects honest and respectful behaviour in all forms of internal and external communication, regardless of form and media used. We do not tolerate any offensive content, discriminatory or harassing text or pictures, derogatory references to age, disability, ethnic origin, marital status, national origin, colour, religion, sex or sexual orientation, pornographic, criminal or terroristic content, political agitation, or any other type of questionable content. This applies to personal interaction, all forms of written or electronic communication, as well as to Internet platforms and social media. Accessing Internet pages with content listed above by means of RHI Magnesita-owned equipment or communication lines is also prohibited.

External presentation of RHI Magnesita is reserved to the governing bodies and authorized functions, the Board, the Executive Management Team, the Regional Presidents, Corporate Communications, and Investor Relations.

Publishing professional articles and lecturing are generally permitted but shall be reported in advance and in accordance with our internal guidelines and procedures to avoid any potential conflict of interests if they are related to the employment at RHI Magnesita.

All private activities of our employees, including but not limited to social media postings, shall be clearly separated from RHI Magnesita activity and must not impair the reputation of RHI Magnesita.

Applicability and implementation

This Code of Conduct is applicable to all employees, executives of RHI Magnesita worldwide, regardless of their position or type of employment.

It summarizes the most important principles of ethical behaviour. Further details and specific regulations applicable to all or only particular business units or geographical areas are contained in separate policies, process descriptions, or guidelines. Such documents will be integrative and binding, together with this Code of Conduct.

Non-compliance with this Code of Conduct or other internal policies may have disciplinary or even legal consequences. RHI Magnesita will not tolerate any illegal behaviour and will penalize any attempt of infringement in accordance with applicable labour laws. In addition, RHI Magnesita reserves the right to claim damages and compensation.

While every RHI Magnesita employee is required to comply with this Code of Conduct, significant responsibility for compliance lies with our management and executives. It is one of their foremost duties to guide and to supervise their staff and team members in daily operations and to act as a role model.

RHI Magnesita provides trainings on various topics covered in this Code of Conduct to help employees better understand our internal policies, guidelines, and processes.

In order to ensure the correct and consistent application of this Code of Conduct and adherence to applicable laws and regulations at RHI Magnesita worldwide, the Internal Audit, Risk & Compliance team will conduct periodic reviews and identify improvement potential. We expect our business partners (customers, suppliers, consultants, etc.) to adhere to similar compliance standards.

Questions and assistance

In some situations it may not be clear whether a particular behaviour or action is legally and/or ethically correct. Sometimes detailed clarification of the conditions and circumstances is required. If you have any questions about the rules outlined in this Code of Conduct, or if you are not sure whether your (planned) decisions, procedures, or other activities are compliant, consult with your supervisor or seek advice from the Internal Audit, Risk & Compliance team.

Reports and complaints —

The RHI Magnesita Compliance Helpline

Our key document
Speak Up Guidance

If you have knowledge of, or suspect a serious violation of applicable laws and regulations, this Code of Conduct or other policies, report the incident — Do not look the other way!

RHI Magnesita provides multiple channels to raise concerns, which are also open to external stakeholders. As a general rule, questions, proposals, problems, and grievances should be clarified with the direct supervisor first. In some situations this may not be effective or you might feel uncomfortable in addressing your concerns directly. If you recognize ethical misconduct do not hesitate to report it. Employees of RHI Magnesita are obliged to report serious cases.

The RHI Magnesita Compliance Helpline enables you to report cases of suspected misconduct and to obtain advice, at any time and regardless of where you are. It is operated by People Intouch B.V., www.speakup.eu, an independent and specialized service provider, and guarantees full anonymity, if you prefer.

You can reach the Compliance Helpline easily by telephone or via a web portal on the Internet under <https://rhimagnesita.speakup.report/RHIMagnesita>. Alternatively, you may direct your concerns via e-mail to Compliance-Helpline@rhimagnesita.com or, if you prefer a personal contact, just get in touch with the Internal Audit, Risk & Compliance team directly, we will be happy to assist you.

Raising a concern or speaking up can take courage, and sometimes what holds us back is fear of the reaction from our colleagues and managers. RHI Magnesita is committed to maintaining a culture in which our employees feel comfortable raising concerns about potential violations of the Code of Conduct or other policies. RHI Magnesita will not tolerate any adverse employment action against an employee who raises a concern in good faith. Any employee who retaliates or participates in retaliating against another employee for raising a compliance concern will be subject to disciplinary measures, up to and including termination of employment.

When reporting an incident, describe the facts in question, as well as all relevant circumstances as clearly and precisely as possible. The more information we get, the better and faster we can respond. All information you provide will be treated confidentially and is subject to diligent evaluation. Please understand that we will not be able to react to reports without sufficient information.

Be aware that rogue messages or false accusations against others are not only unethical but may also be punishable and cause sustainable damage. Such behaviour is not permitted and constitutes a serious abuse of our reporting channels.

More information on raising concerns as well as on internal and external reporting channels are provided in our internal policy, as well as on the RHI Magnesita website and Intranet.
